The Women in Energy & Renewables Summit is back for 2026!

The Women in Energy & Renewables Summit returns in 2026, bringing together the professionals leading Australia's energy transition for two days of in-person learning, collaboration, and connection.

Designed for senior professionals shaping Australia's energy transition, including network owners, generators, retailers, developers, regulators, consultants, and the specialist engineers and project leaders delivering complex grid, renewables, and storage projects. Ideal for decision-makers and practitioners working across transmission, distribution, renewable energy, market operations, approvals, stakeholder engagement, finance, and policy.

"Fantastic! Great mix of energy and leadership themes, great diversity of speakers and enjoyed the networking opportunities."

Suzanna Michell, Gentrack (past attendee)

Who will you meet?

Senior managers and executives in energy, networks, generation, retail, and storage

Project, program, and portfolio leaders working on transmission, distribution, renewables, BESS, and grid connection

Engineers and technical specialists in power systems, OT, telecommunications, asset management, planning, and controls

Commercial, trading, finance, and investment professionals involved in energy market participation and project economics

Policy, approvals, environment, stakeholder engagement, legal, and compliance professionals supporting major energy projects

5 reasons to attend

1

Advance your career and leadership capability

2

Build practical technical, project, and business skills

3

Be part of shaping a more inclusive, equitable, and forward-looking sector

4

Expand your network and make valuable industry connections

5

Stay informed on energy trends, policy, and market developments

Negotiation masterclass: Mastering negotiation skills - the cornerstone of career success

Whether you're securing a high-stakes deal, advocating for a promotion, or navigating the complexities of cross-functional collaboration, negotiation is a fundamental business skill that can shape your career trajectory.

Through practical strategies, real-world scenarios, and expert facilitation, this highly interactive session will equip you with the tools to advocate for yourself and your ideas, unlock new opportunities, and drive better outcomes for your organisation and career.

Learning Outcomes:

- Learn the core principles of effective negotiation and how to apply them in both formal and informal settings
- Explore proven techniques for managing nerves, overcoming imposter syndrome, and approaching negotiations with calm self-assurance
- Develop strategies to handle pushback, conflict, and high-pressure discussions with professionalism and poise
- Learn how to assess what you bring to the table, identify leverage points, and position your value to others persuasively
- Discover how to achieve your goals while maintaining respect, trust, and collaboration with peers and stakeholders
- Identify your personal negotiation style, adapt it to different scenarios, and build a flexible toolkit that works across contexts

By the end of this Masterclass, you'll walk away with a renewed sense of confidence, a clear set of actionable strategies, and a framework for approaching every negotiation, big or small, with purpose and skill.

Don't just be part of the conversation – learn how to shape it.

Facilitator:

Bron Williams

Keynote Speaker, Mentor, PhD Researcher

Finance masterclass: Understanding how economic thinking shapes Australia's energy system

Understanding how Australia's energy system is being reshaped by economic forces is essential for anyone working across the energy transition. From electricity pricing and market signals to investment flows and policy settings, economic thinking underpins how projects are financed, delivered, and scaled across the sector.

In this masterclass, you will build confidence in interpreting energy market behaviour, understand how economic conditions influence investment decisions, and develop practical skills to translate market signals into better strategic and operational decisions in energy and renewables roles.

Learning Outcomes:

- Understand how core economic principles such as supply and demand shape Australia's energy system and influence pricing, investment, and project development decisions across the National Electricity Market
- Explore how electricity markets operate and how pricing, competition, and regulatory frameworks translate into real-world signals that affect energy project viability and business strategy
- Develop a clearer understanding of how macroeconomic factors such as inflation, interest rates, and economic growth influence energy demand, infrastructure investment, and cost of capital in the energy transition
- Demystify how energy markets connect to capital markets, including how energy assets are valued, financed, and assessed through a lens of risk, return, and market expectations
- Learn how emissions reduction policies and market-based mechanisms shape investment decisions, create competitive advantage, and influence long-term energy system transformation
- Apply economic and market insights to interpret forecasts, assess risk, and identify opportunities that support more informed decision-making across energy and renewables roles

By the end of this Masterclass, you will have a stronger understanding of how economic and market forces interact within Australia's energy system, and a practical framework for translating those insights into better decisions, clearer strategy, and more confident participation in the energy transition.

Facilitator:

Jennifer Eason

Partnership opportunities

The Women in Energy & Renewables Summit 2026 is your chance to meet key decision makers from the entire energy value chain and associated industries. These decision makers from a vast range of public and private sector organisations across Australia will gather to find solutions to maximise the opportunities in Australian energy.

By being a part of this event, you can position yourself as one of the companies leading the way towards diversity and inclusion in energy & renewables while you demonstrate your industry expertise.

There are numerous sponsorship and exhibition opportunities with packages designed to help you meet your marketing and sales targets, so contact Milad Etemadi on milade@questevents.com.au or Tashi Gazzard on tashig@questevents.com.au to discuss how we can help you connect with your ideal audience

What past attendees have said

"It was a great event with lots of high- quality talks and panel discussions. I especially appreciated the focus on NEM reforms, the importance of community engagement in the energy transition, and increasing energy literacy."

Massie Mahmoodi, Essential Energy

"This conference was incredibly warm, welcoming, comforting and empowering, to know that our individual experiences as women in the Energy industry aren't isolated, but that many of us have been through similar challenges and struggles. This provides such an air of support and encouragement to keep powering on in making the industry a better place for women to work. We don't have to feel alone but can lean on each other."

Senior Electrical Engineer, Global Power Energy

"Great conference to understand the energy and renewable industry and connect with like-minded women."

Project Manager - Major Projects, United Energy

"Great; well balanced with technical, leadership and humanities."

Caitlyn Pengelly, CleanCo Queensland (past attendee)
